OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Friday - 14 February 1964

25X1 1. [] In accordance with Mr. Elder's request, I telephoned Senator Richard Russell's office attempting to set an appointment for the DCI to meet with the Senator on Monday afternoon. In the absence of the Senator from the city, his office could not firmly set an appointment; however, they will call us the first thing Monday morning.

Also called Chairman Vinson's office attempting to set an appointment and they advised the Chairman would see Mr. McCone at four o'clock on Monday afternoon.

25X1 2. [] At the request of Mrs. Luna E. Diamond, Clerical Assistant to Senator Clinton P. Anderson (D., N.M.), made an appointment for [] for 2:30 today with 25X1 [] Office of Personnel.

25X1 3. [] Delivered to Miss Johnson in the office of Senator Gaylord Nelson (D., Wisc.) a biography relating to antiques and art treasures lost, stolen or missing during World War II. (See Journal item of 13 February 1964)

25X1 4. [] Delivered to Mr. Walter Besterman, House Immigration Subcommittee, a blind memorandum on []
25X1 [] This item was originally prepared and transmitted to Senate Immigration Subcommittee on 9 December 1955.

25X1 5. [] Delivered to Jim Gehrig in the office of Senator Stuart Symington an analysis of the McCarthy article. Mr. Gehrig will give this to the Senator when he returnson Monday.

25X1 6. [] Returned to David Martin, Staff Assistant to Senator Thomas J. Dodd, the draft of the Senator's speech on attacks against the Agency with suggested changes made by the Task Force and approved by General Carter. I advised Martin that it was the feeling of our people that inclusion of material on the Starnes article would cause Starnes to go into another tirade and for this reason we suggested that references to Starnes and Richardson be deleted. I emphasized this was our recommendation and the final decision rests with the Senator. (We had endeavored to talk directly with the Senator on this, however, he is at a speaking engagement in New York and we were unable to reach him.) Martin said he would be reviewing the speech with the Senator later in the day and would talk to him about this. The Senator plans to give the speech on the floor of the Senate on Monday and advance copies will be made available to us tomorrow.
